Good Morning. Boniour. Buenos Dias and Gilakas'La Carihi

Carihi Convenience:

Coming soon, Carihi Convenience is excited to be showcasing team pop ups in June with all sorts of yummy treats to help you celebrate spring. In the meantime, all store items are reduced to clear - come check out our affordable snack options located outside the office on Tuesdays & Thursdays at the breaks.

Carihi Gamers' Guild—Game-A-Thon:

The last Gamer' Guild-Game-A-Thon of the school year is on June 11th, after school at 2:45pm to 7:30pm meet in room E113. Bring money if you would like pizza! During these sessions, there is time to learn new games, there is time for longer games (ex: Risk, Warhammer, Settlers of Catan or Dungeons and Dragons) and there is time for mini tournaments (Ex: Magic: The Gathering Drafting).

Indigenous Read Contest:

Marrow Thieves, Moon of the Crusted Snow, Firekeepers Daughter, Son of Trickster. These are just a few of the amazing books we have in our collection written by Indigenous authors. To celebrate National Indigenous History Month, the Library is holding an Indigenous Reads Contest. If you have read a book by an Indigenous Author, all you have to do is write a brief review to enter into a draw. Multiple prizes to win. Contest ends June 20th. See the display in the Learning Commons for more details.

Poetry in the Wild:

During the month of June, as part of National Indigenous History Month, we'll be celebrating the work of Haítzaqv poet Jess Housty. Jess's poems will be posted around the school. Look for them in unexpected places. If you find a poem, take a moment to read it and reflect. What does the poem teach us about our relationship with the land, about family and community? If you would like to help "wild" a poem from Jess's collection Crushed Wild Mint come see Ms. Lapointe in the Learning Commons. You can help by: choosing a poem, illustrating a poem, sharing your own poem, or placing a poem around the school.

Important Library Dates:

Today will be the last day to check out books. June 13th is when all books need to be returned. A Block classes that have returned all of their books by Monday, June 16th will get a treat. Don't let your classmates down. Get those books returned!

FOUND— An opal ring and phone have been found, if you've lost either of these items please come to the office to describe them to claim them.

Traditional Metis Tufting Workshop

On Friday June 13, Metis artist Mara Kersey will be here over the lunch break to offer an introductory workshop about the traditional Metis craft of tufting, a decorative art that uses animal hair to create three-dimensional designs. See Ms. Lapointe in the Learning Commons to learn more or to sign up, or come to Room B105 at lunch. The workshop is free!

Teen Summer Reading Challenge

The Children and Youth Librarian from the Campbell River Public Library will be here on Friday, June 13th at lunch to talk about the Teen Summer Reading Challenge. Read different types of texts and win prizes! Come by the Learning Commons at lunch to learn more. You can also sign up for a Public Library card while you are at it. The Carihi Library will be closing, but you can still access free resources from the Public Library all summer long!
