Learning

- November 1st Pro D on Transformational Change was incredible (two keynote speaker were Kevin Lamoreaux and Jesse Wentz, followed by various workshops)
- Working towards a Well Being Framework for Carihi, led by Carihi staff
- First Provincial Session administered. Goal is that all teachers support the literacy and numeracy foundations behind this
- Gillian Kirke our District Indigenous Education Coordinator was in residence for two days in October and will be back for two days in November as staff continue to explore ways in which to integrate Indigenous content and ways of learning, as well as current issues into their curriculum, which supports the goal of the ninth standard

Under the new standard, all educators are expected to commit to respect and value the history of First Nations, Inuit and Métis in Canada, and to foster a deeper understanding of Indigenous histories, cultures and perspectives, integrating these worldviews into the classroom. Teachers will also bring an understanding of how all people are connected to family, community and the natural world.

Health and Safety

- No change to existing guidelines except that our district is allowing for spectators at games with protocols in place
